HILL OPENS THE CAMPAIGN.

AN ATTACK ON THOSE WHO ENFORCE THE EXCISE LAW.

MIS SPEECH. WHICH WAS ADDRESSED TO THE KEYNOTE OF THE DEMO-

Elmira, N. Y., Sept. 7 .- The Democratic Convention for Chemung County met in Horseheads this afternoon. Senator David B. Hill was present, and he delivered a speech on "Personal Liberty." It was the first gun of the campaign, as far as the Democratic party in this State is concerned. R. R. Soper, John A. Reynolds and L. A. Harding were elected delegates to the State Convention; A. J. Watson, Boyd McDowell, John D. Cham-berlin, F. M. Hughson, W. E. Breeze, James Mc-Given, Lawrence Murray, Martin Ford, Jeremiah Bergen and F. X. Disney to the Senate Conven-tion, and Edgar Denton to the Judicial Convention.

Senator Hill teceived tremendous cheering, and he spoke for two hours. His speech was an attack on the Republican party and the New-York City administration for enforcing the Excise and Sun-administration for enforcing the Excise and Sunday laws. He said, in part:

The paramount issue in this campaign is that of personal liberty. In saying this i do not underestimate the importance of the other issues involved, and especially those presented in the enormous increase in the State taxes, the misconduct and corruptions of the last Legislature, its arbitrary, ridiculous and unprecedented legislation, its violations of home-rule principles, its boxus reform pretensions and performances, and the question of fixed responsibility in municipal government versus bipartisan, non-partisan and pseudo-partisan commissions. These issues, directly or indirectly affected in the ensuing election, cannot compare with an issue affecting the individual freedom of the citizen.

with an issue affecting the individual freedom of the citizen.

The Senator then proceeded to say that the Police Commissioners of New-York, "who were swept into office by the recent wave of bogus reform," had construed the Sunday law in the most narrow and arbitrary fashion possible. They had nullified even the few liberal Sunday provisions that were in existence. They had insisted that landords must supply a "full meal" when the law did not so require; they had closed up the poor man's lager-beer restsurant, but had allowed the far blonable and aristocratic clubs, of which they were themselves members, to remain open and sell liquors all night and on Sundays; they had discriminated in their enforcement of Sunday laws, by preventing the sale of lager beer, but expressly permitting the sale of soda-water, although the sale of one was no more prohibited by law than the other; they had made the enforcement of the Sunday laws ridiculous, by causing children to be arrested near cemetries on Sunday for selling flowers with which to decorate the graves of deceased friends; they had arbitrarily arrested people for selling loc-water on Sunday to thirsty travellers; they had arrested people in the upper part of New-York for simply cutting the weeds in their front yards on Sunday morning; they had caused hundreds of causeless and unwarranted arrests to be made each Sunday for fictitious offences, resulting in the discharge of the prisoners on Menday.

To the general proposition that all laws should be enforced there was no dissent. That, however, did not exclude the exercise of good judgment, fair play and impartiality. The persistent misconstruction of the Sunday provisions of the Excise law rendered some additional legislation desirable, and the best and surest remedy to meet the existing situation would be found in applying the principle of home rule.

WESTCPESTER REPUBLICAN DELEGATES. THE IID ASSEMBLY DISTRICT CHOOSES ITS REP-RESENTATIVES-JUDGE ROBERTSON MAY RUN FOR THE SENATE.

The Republican Convention of the 11d Assembly District of Westchester County was held in Lin-coln Hall, Mount Vernon, yesterday. Everything was controlled by Judge W. H. Robertson, who gained another victory in the only Assembly disership. The following were chosen as delegates to the State Convention: George E. Simpson, Rye; Noel Blakeman, Mount Vernon; John P. Lounsbury, Rye; Joseph B. See, North Castle, and James Senate delegates-Edson White Plains. Lewis, Mount Vernon; W. H. Bleecker, Rye; James W. Stafford, White Plains; James F. Seacer, Pel-ham, and Thomas C. Arnew, West Chester, Judiciary-Charles H. Young, New-Rochelle; George L. Cardele, New-Rochelle; David O. Williams, Mount Vernon; Jacob Halstead and Frederick W.

Mount Vernon; Jacob Halstead and Frederick W. Sherman, Rye.
Resolutions indorsing the candidacy of County Judge Isaac N. Mills for the Supreme Court bench and ex-Assemblyman Bradford Rhodes for the Senate nomination were defeated through the efforts of Charles H. Young, of New-Rochelle, Judge Robertson's leader in the district.

James P. Hayes, a delegate from Mount Vernon, announced, in speaking on the resolutions, that the Republicans of Mount Vernon would not support J. Irving Burns, of Yonkers, if nominated for the Senate. It is now believed that Judge Robertson himself will be a candidate for the Senate. The convention of the IId Assembly District was held yesterday afternoon in Wiggins Hall. T. Astley Atkins presided, and the following delegates were elected: Judiciary Convention—C. F. Bates, East Chester; F. V. Millard and John Gick, Mount Pleasant; J. H. Corwin, Valentine Marsh and William C. Kellogg, Yonkers, State—J. L. Taylor, Greenburg; S. R. More, Mount Pleasant; J. G. Peene, J. Irving Burns and Henry Osterheld, Yonkers, Senate—C. F. Bates, East Chester; J. J. Mahoney, Greenburg; S. P. Horton, Mount Pleasant; W. D. Baidwin, J. L. Prosius and John Schlobohm, Yonkers.

The Judiciary delegates from Yonkers will support James M. Hunt for Supreme Court Judge, and the delegates from the towns of Greenburg and Mount Pleasant will vote for Judge Isaac N. Mills for that office. The Senate delegates will support James Irving Burns for Senator.

called upon the Cleveland men to leave the hall, with the result that two conventions were held.

The Hill convention nominated Lawrence Clancey, a prominent merchant, for Mayor, and the Cleveland men nominated Dr. W. J. Bulger. Two full tickets were named and two city committees elected.

Both sides say they will stay in it to the finish, which undoubtedly means a Republican victory, The Republicans have not called their convention yet, but John D. Higgins, the present Mayor, will probably be renominated.

DUTCHESS BOOMS MORTON. THE TWO ASSEMBLY CONVENTIONS IN HIS OWN COUNTY FAVOR HIM FOR PRESIDENT.

bly District Republican Convention was held in the Court House in this city this afternoon. Resolu-tions were adopted indorsing Robert F. Wilkinson, of Poughkeepsie, as a candidate for the nomina-tion of Justice of the Supreme Court in the Second Judicial District, and commending the administration of Governor Morton, declaring him the unanifor President of the United States at the National Convention in 1896. Dutchess is Mr. Morton's home county, and the resolution referring to him went through with a rush and evoked hearty cheering The following were elected delegates to the State Convention: L. H. The 1st Dutchess Assembly District Republican Convention, held in Matteawan to-day, chose the following delegates: To the State Convention—John H. Ketcham, John T. Smith, Walter A. Sherman, Oakleigh Thorne, Samuel Moore and Morgan Carpenter. To the Judiciary Convention—H. H. Hustis, William R. Lee and J. F. Schlosser. The delegates to the Judiciary Convention were instructed to vote for Robert F. Wilkinson, of Poughkeepsie, for Justice of the Supreme Court for the Second Judicial District. A resolution was passed, indorsing the candidacy of Governor Morfon for the Republican nomination for President. The resolution declared that the prevailing sentiment among Republicans of New-York State favored his nomination.

IDENTIFICATION OF VOTERS.

New-Yorkers who found the duty of voting fit, and will find when they go to the polls on next Election Day that they can vote quickly and easily. They will have their first experience with the blanket ballot. It will be presented to them already properly folded. It will not be necessary for a voter to take a dozen ballots into a voting booth, fold all of them carefully, select the one he wants to vote, keep it separate from the rest and make sure that it goes into the right box, while the others are handed back to the election officers. He need only to take one ballot into the voting booth, unfold it, mark it, fold it again and vote it. If he only one mark on the ballot with a leadpencil.

Voters in this city will not soon forget how painfully slow was the voting when it was necessary to select one out of several ballots, fold them all exactly right and watch the inspector of elections to make sure that he de-posited the right ballot in the right box. Even when a voter had spent several anxious minutes in a voting booth and had taken the utmost pains to have his ballots properly handled, he sometimes left the polls with a suspicion that in some way

EMBLEMS NOT YET SELECTED.

In the accompanying cut the form of the blanket ballot is shown, but the party emblems are not those which will be used in the official ballot, because the emblems are to be selected by the State onventions. Under the title of each office in each column, except the last column, there will appear in the official ballot the name of a candidate for the office, and the candidates have yet to be nominated. The directions at the head of the ballot are sufficient to guide any intelligent voter, and there in marking a ballot. It will be an easy matter for him to unfold the ballot in the voting booth, mark it and fold it again before voting it, but he must be careful to fold the ballot before leaving the booth, as it is the intention of the law to have a secret ballot, and it would be a misdemeanor for a man to exhibit a marked ballot before voting it.

Voters who are blind or maimed, or are otherwise disabled from voting without assistance, can have booth, but the law throws a new safeguard arounsuch voters. It was formerly the rule to allow such a voter to take a friend with him into the voting booth, and Tammany workers made use of the present law a man cannot have aid in voting un less he has declared his disability at the time of registration, or, if the disability has been incurred between the time of registration and the day of the manner in which the disability was incurred voting booth with him and mark the ballot for him. one a Republican and the other a Democrat, must accompany him into the booth, and one of them must mark the ballot according to the will of the voter. There are six counties in Connecticut. New-York New-York has thirty-four. Less than $5,000 Republican votes were cast in Connecticut last year.

Warner Miller still continues to tell "The Sun" substantial reasons have been set forth recently that

The men were examined in batches of 188, to suit the seating capacity of the rooms at the disposal of the examiners. Printed forms were nanded to the men as they entered the examination-rooms, and the applicants were required to remove their hats, take seats and sitently write answers to the questions on the forms. The printed forms were distributed in such a way that one applicant would have a different set of questions from those to be answered by the men near him. The applicants could not copy each other's answers to the questions, therefore, or get information from each other. Forty-five minutes were allowed to each applicant to write the answers. He city made up the lists of applicants for appointment to office as inspectors of election, ballot cierks, and poil clerks, they knew that the applicants would have to stand examinations as to their mental and moral fitness, and that the reform Board of Police Commissioners would reject all applicants who failed to pass the examinations. Unusual care was taken, therefore, to select men who would be likely to pass, and the names of many "heclers" who had used their power as election officers in past years to promote frauds at the polls were left off the lists. The applicants for appointment also were induced to study the Election law in advance. When the lists of applicants were received at the Bureau of Elections, General Rodenbouch, the chief of the bureau, caused to be sent to each man on the list a copy of the law in which was pasted this notice:

Then he ran for County Judge and was elected, and now comes this high honor of the Supreme Court Judgeship. He has won his own way, however, and there is no fair-minded man in Essex County or elsewhere that does not rejoice in his success, particularly as success has not spoiled him in any way. He is a pushing, aggressive, self-made man, with more hard sense than legal training, but he will fill the position and fill it well.
